

KEEP YOUR HANDS OFF IT

Shovelt®

HAND SAFETY TOOL

The Shovelt® hand safety tool is designed to be an all-purpose “hands off” pole that enables workers to remain a safe distance from no-go danger zones. It substitutes hand placement in puncture, cut, crush and pinch point areas.

The Shovelt® helps workers avoid costly hand injuries while working with suspended loads or maneuvering objects, maintaining proper body positioning for safe handling out of the line of fire. It enables users to guide loads, move and position pipes and tubulars, as well as grab slings and tag lines without physically placing hands on the item.

Effectively work within a safe distance of objects that may cause hand, arm, foot and even full body injuries.

Use the Shovelt® to push objects where potential hazards exist such as rotary equipment and auger fins.

The versatile V-shaped head allows workers to safely push and pull against flat surfaces, corners and tubulars.

Opposing grab hooks help maneuver cable slung loads. The textured shaft and hand guards provide slip resistant handling to keep hands in place.

The ergonomic and lightweight design in five standard stock lengths ensure the user can work in the tightest of spaces and access even the longest reach applications.

The Shovelt® provides a balanced center of gravity and enables workers to remain a safe distance from dangerous crush and pinch points .
